Lexow and his hayseed committee seem to have been very easily baffled by a single Granaw.

Only 100 failures in the United States, last week, against 245 the previous week and 260 in the corresponding week, last year. Despite hard times, strikes, floods and gold exports business seems to have settled down on the hardest kind of hardpan.

Coney is faring well in the Washington jail. The weak women, who invent with a sentimental interest every malefactor who is put behind the bars, are supplying him with fruit, flowers and dainty lunches, and the murderers and brutal assailants of women, who have had a monopoly of their delicate attentions are wild with jealousy and anxiously waiting for the expiration of his term of imprisonment.

Home-lessness seems to have been the reason for Justice Sutherland's return from Canada. The seven indictments found against him, last week, made it plain to him that there was no use in "waiting for things to blow over," and as between spending the rest of his life in exile and a term of imprisonment, with a possibility of spending his remaining days at his beloved, though reformed, Coney Island, he chose the latter alternative.

Gov. Flower's removal of Sheriff Beck, of Erie county, for failure to do his full duty in preserving order at the polls and in securing a complete enforcement of the law at last fall's election, was a surprise to all the politicians, who expected that, in spite of the evidence against the sheriff, his political pull would save him. Political pulls do not, however, seem to count for much with Governor Flower and he cares no more for the friends of a public official, who fails to do his duty, than he did for the votes of the rioting clam diggers of the Great South Bay.

Seventeen-year locusts are doing great damage to fruit trees and grain and grass fields in Gloucester county, N. J., and in some townships have stripped the grain fields so bare that they look as if a mowing machine had been run through them. In the vicinity of Decatur, Ill., millions of locusts have appeared and are laying waste all green things. In the vicinity of Paterson, N. J., large numbers of locusts came out of the ground, last week, and, fortunately for the farmers, countless thousands of them were drowned by the heavy rain. The advent of the locusts in this vicinity may be expected at any time, but their number is not likely to be great enough to do any serious damage for the locusts were not numerous here in the last locust year, 1877.

Wise and conservative counsels seem to prevail in the convention of railroad employees, made up of representatives of the organizations of engineers, conductors, firemen, trainmen, switchmen and telegraphers, which is now in session in New York, with a view of formulating a plan of federation that will make the different organizations of use to each other in the event of any one organization being forced to strike for the maintenance of their rights. The national federation scheme, which would have united all organizations in a homogeneous whole and placed it under one executive control, who could have tied up all the railroads of the country by ordering a strike is understood to have found but little favor with the delegates. The basis of federation agreed on provides for the perpetuation of the different organizations as they now exist and creates for each railroad system a central body made up of delegates or officers of each of the six organizations. The right to pass upon differences between employees of any class and the road and to order strikes is vested in this central body and in the event of a strike being ordered on any system, other systems will not be involved. The convention also discussed a plan of organization by a national federation and by State in order to secure legislative enactments in the interest of railroad labor.

FOR CRUELTY TO ANIMALS.

A Unionville Man Fined $50 by a Port Jervis Justice.

Edward Forshoe, a Unionville calf peddler, was fined $50, yesterday, by Justice Conkling, of Port Jervis, for cruelty to a lot of calves, the complainant being Dr. J. J. Mills, of Port Jervis.

Forshoe was returning to his home, Saturday evening, with a load of calves, but first lifted up with Port Jervis rum. When he reached the Greenville turnpike he attempted to turn round in the road. The wagon was upset and broken and the calves thrown out. Forshoe unhitched his horses and took them to a shed at Drake's plaster mill, where he left them, and spent the night in the village.

Dr. Mills caused Forshoe's arrest and looked after the horses, which had had neither food nor drink, and then drove to where the wreck occurred. He found the calves in the road with their feet tied together and badly swollen.

The Penalty Was Severe.

The new law regarding the reporting of births, deaths and marriages increases the fine from ten dollars to one hundred dollars for failure to report them, besides making the offender liable to a year's imprisonment.

THE BUSHVILLE DOUBLE MURDER.

Hiram Osterhout Arrested and Charged With the Crime—Lodged in the Monticello Jail—Some of the Circumstantial Evidence on Which the Arrest was Made.

Hiram Osterhout was arrested, yesterday morning, by Sheriff Beecher, on the charge of having committed the double murder at Bushville, Sullivan county, in February last.

The arrest was made about 5 o'clock in the morning, while Osterhout was still in bed.

By ascertaining how long the old clock found in Jacob Moore's house would run, Sheriff Beecher established the fact that the crime was committed Wednesday night about bed time.

It was known that Osterhout left the house of Mr. Bennett at 8 o'clock the night of the murder, saying he was going to the house of his brother-in-law, Minard Swartout, old Jake Moore's nearest neighbor.

A Mrs. Harris, her daughter, Nora, and two others saw Osterhout within a half hour's walk of Moore's house, after 11 o'clock on the night of the murder.

The bullets found in Jacob Moore's body, fit the chambers of a cheap pistol owned by Osterhout.

This strong circumstantial evidence and the conflicting stories told by Osterhout as to his whereabouts on the night of the murder were regarded as sufficient to justify his arrest.

Worthy Representatives of the Empire State.

AFTER A RAINY DAY.

Many Prisoners at the Bar of Recorder's Court—The Rain Too Much for a One-Legged Veteran—Tramps Who Built a Fire in an Ice House—Insulted an Officer.

The heavy rain of yesterday afternoon was responsible for the large amount of business which occupied the attention of the Recorder, this morning.

Rogers Guthrie, a one-legged man claiming to be a veteran, showed besides his wooden peg, several scars upon his head and neck. He pleaded not guilty to a charge of intoxication, and said that his condition was the result of the heavy soaking he had received in the hard rain. He was given a passport out of town.

Four tramps sought lodgings in the lockup and they were also sent on their way.

Frank Romer arrested four young tramps at the ice houses of the Middletown Ice Company at the Summit. Two of them he found sitting beside a fire which they had kindled upon the earth floor of one of the buildings. The others had been off on a begging tour and he nabbed them on their return. They were all young, only one being over twenty, and he had lost all the fingers [and a portion of his right hand]. They told straight stories of their wanderings in search of work, and the Recorder discharged them with a severe reprimand. They had lighted the fire for the purpose of drying their clothes, and thought they were doing no harm, as they had kept a close watch on the fire and did not put enough wood on the fire to make a big blaze.

A young farmer while loitering around the corners of the street, last night, when told to move on by Officer Wood, replied in unprintable language not calculated to soothe the usually serene temperament of that custodian of the peace, and as a consequence the young farmer was taken to the lockup. Here he pleaded hard for his release, saying that he had a team in the city to care for, and the officer let him go. When he had obtained his team he drove up behind Officer Tyrrell on West Main street, whom he mistook for Wood, and shouting at him in most obscene language, whipped up his horses and drove away. Officer Tyrrell located his man, this morning, when he brought his milk to the city and arrested him. The Recorder fined him ten dollars which he afterwards reduced to five dollars.

The case of the two young men who were arrested, on Friday last, upon a charge of cruelty to a dog, preferred by Saloon Keeper Layard Abers, of Fulton street, which was set down for trial, to-day, was dismissed, the complainant appearing and withdrawing the complaint, after paying three dollars cost.

QUICK WORK AT HARLEM PARK.

To Be Ready for the Public in Ten Days—Grand Opening on July 4th.

Within two days after Mr. George Lea took possession of the land, purchased of Mr. D. R. Miller, hereafter to be known as Harlem Park, a dancing platform had been put in place, over 2,000 feet of fence posts set, two small bridges constructed and a number of booths for refreshments erected. A force of men is still at work and Messrs. Lea & Corey hope to have the grove enclosed and ready for use within the next ten days.

The managers are already making dates with parties desiring the use of the grove during the summer months for picnics, festivals, etc. The formal opening of the park will be on July 4th, when an old fashioned celebration will be held on the grounds.

THE 24TH'S TRIP TO PATERSON.

Everything in Readiness for the Laying of the Armory Corner Stone—Arrangements for the Trip.

Mr. J. W. Ferguson, contractor for the new armory at Paterson, has rushed the work along so that everything is in readiness for the laying of the corner stone, to-morrow. The stone will be laid by Governor Geo. T. Werts.

The 24th Separate Company which will participate in the ceremonies, will assemble at the armory at 6:15 a. m., and will go to Paterson via the Erie's Orange County Express, in two special cars.

A number of Middletowners will accompany the 24th, the Erie having made a rate of $1 for the round trip.

Additional Telegraph Service on the Crawford Branch.

An additional wire is being strung along the Crawford branch of the Erie. The wire now in use there belongs to the Western Union Telegraph Company and runs through to New Paltz and Lake Mohunk. There is so much commercial business over the wire especially in summer, that the railway company finds it difficult to get the use of the wire when needed. Hereafter there will be a railroad and a commercial wire to Pine Bush.

A Small Wreck at Goshen.

A broken brake beam under a westbound freight train, just west of Goshen, last night, threw four cars from the rails, blocking the track for some time. The Mountain Express which was just behind the freight was delayed a few minutes, but was run on the westbound track.

INCIDENTS AND HAPPENINGS IN COSHEN.

A Distressing Blunder—Music Hall Struck by Lightning—A Barn Struck by Lightning and Burned.

From our regular correspondent.

—One of our composers made a horrible mistake in my notes, last evening, and made me say that Editors Drake and Roys had been breaking the Sabbath fishing on Sunday. Surely the editors of the Argus should know that truly good editors never go fishing on Sunday, and the Goshen editors took their outing Saturday.

—Lightning played in this village in very lively style during the heavy shower, yesterday afternoon. A chimney on Music Hall was struck and partially demolished, but the building was not otherwise damaged. A tree on the Pooler farm was struck and the bolt running down the trunk, killed a valuable collie dog which was lying under the tree.

MRS. VAN AKEN HAS GONE AWAY.

And Mrs. Wyncoop Will Pay to Find Out Where Her Husband Is.

A Newburgh dispatch says that Mrs. Levi Van Aken, the handsome young wife of a Marlborough fruit grower, left her home recently, and her husband believes she has eloped with his half-brother, Charles Wyncoop, a prosperous farmer, of Montgomery, N. Y. This is said to be the third time that Mrs. Van Aken has left her husband and children for Wyncoop, within a few weeks. Both times previously she was taken home by her husband.

When Mrs. Van Aken left home the last time, she was going to Kingston. Afterward her husband found her at a hotel in Gardiner, Ulster county. She promised to meet him at Milton the following day, and go home with him from there. Then Van Aken returned to Marlborough. Instead of following him, however, Mrs. Van Aken took a train and was joined at Walden by Wyncoop, so the latter's wife says.

Wyncoop drew several hundred dollars out of a savings bank a few days before he went away. His wife found the money, it is said, and kept it. She says she will pay a reward for information of her husband's whereabouts. The couple have four sons.

Mrs. Van Aken was a devout church member and a Sunday school teacher. Her husband has not yet offered a reward to learn where she is.
